BLACK-OUT-JACK.ONRENDER.COM · 18+ ONLY · DRINK RESPONSIBLY

Blackjack night without the bookkeeping: the app deals, keeps the score and settles every argument

01

It deals

A shuffled shoe on every phone. The dealer seat rotates by itself, and bots fill empty seats.

02

It keeps score

Every sip, credit and handout is counted live, per player, and milestones are called out as they happen.

03

It settles arguments

Rules fire automatically. Votes and side bets run on everyone's phone, with a timer.

SO WHAT

Everyone plays; nobody has to be the referee, the banker or the one who remembers what an Ace of Spades does.

Source: Black(Out)Jack rules, logged rounds and simulator

Four steps a round, and the app runs all of them

Call it

Before the deal, bet whether the dealer busts. Right earns a credit and a handout; wrong costs a sip.

Play any hand

Hit, stand, double or split, on as many hands as the table sets. Unsuited 10s must be split.

Rules fire live

Aces, suited hands, a third 6 or 7 on the table: sips move the moment the card lands.

Settle up

Wins offset losses, so you only drink your net loss. Then the dealer seat moves on.

SO WHAT

Nobody sits out: the dealer seat rotates, so over a night everyone deals and everyone plays.

Source: Black(Out)Jack rules, logged rounds and simulator

The drinking rules reward bold play: the table drinks when you win big

01

Net losses only

Wins offset losses. You only drink for the hands you lose more than you win.

02

Your Blackjack, their sips

Blackjacks, doubled and split wins and suited hands hand sips to everyone else.

03

Aces have powers

♣ a credit · ♠ the next player drinks · ♥ treat yourself · ♦ the dealer drinks.

04

Split 10s with honor

Unsuited 10s must be split. The cautious 20 is off the menu.

05

Devil's Hand · Lucky Sevens

A third 6 on the table makes someone drink; a third 7 hands out a credit.

06

Milestones

First to every 50 sips hands out 5. Back-to-back winners get called out.

Between hands, four side games keep the whole table in it, dealer included

01

Dealer bust vote

Bet the dealer busts. Right: a credit plus a handout. Wrong: a sip.

02

Dealer Lottery

Dealer lands a paired 18 or 20? Stake 0–5 on a split redeal: busts pay out, a clean redeal costs you.

03

Targeted Drinking

The table votes someone onto the spot: call bust or stand on a mini-hand until three in a row.

04

Wild Card

Tap the logo for a surprise: a sip for you, for someone random, or a Targeted round.

SO WHAT

Every side game is a switch in House rules: keep the ones your table loves, drop the rest, even mid-game.

Source: Black(Out)Jack rules, logged rounds and simulator

Black(Out)Jack

Every table sets its own game: 44 rules, three presets, and a drink rate for each seat

HOUSE RULES YOUR WAY

Starter

10 rules · the essentials

Standard

31 rules · the classic night

Full

44 rules · everything on

- Start on a preset, then add rules one at a time
- Switch any rule off, even mid-game
- Players suggest changes; the table can vote them in

FAIR FOR EVERY DRINK

- Drink Rate: each seat picks its factor, from wine at 0.6× or a cocktail at 0.4× up to a 1.5× booster
- Easy Mode: halve everyone's sips with one switch
- Big tables: sips halve by themselves at 4+ players
- Normal mode: the same game with chips, no drinking at all

PLAY ANYWHERE

One room code gets everyone in, around one table or across the country

01

Digital

Phones and laptops, no install: add it to your home screen for an app feel. Bots fill empty seats and can play in the style of real players.

02

Referee

Play with a real deck; the app is the scorekeeper and rule book.

03

Terminal

Solo or local multiplayer from the command line, for the nerds.

SO WHAT

Share the room code or its QR code, and anyone can join from their own phone. Spectators can watch without a seat.

Black(Out)Jack

A typical 40-round night: about 4.8 sips per seat per round, and the first milestone lands around round 11

MODELLED RUNNING TOTAL FOR ONE SEAT

4.8
sips per seat per round, on average

~190
sips for a typical seat over 40 rounds

159–221
where 80% of seats finish

R11
when a typical seat reaches the first 50-sip milestone

SO WHAT

Steady, not a sprint: the gap between the heaviest and lightest seat grows with the square root of the rounds played, not with the rounds themselves. Easy Mode, Drink Rate and 4+ player tables all bring the line down.

Source: Black(Out)Jack rules, logged rounds and simulator · Model: average and spread of 1,174 logged seat-rounds (net sips, as played); band = average ± 1.28 × spread × √rounds

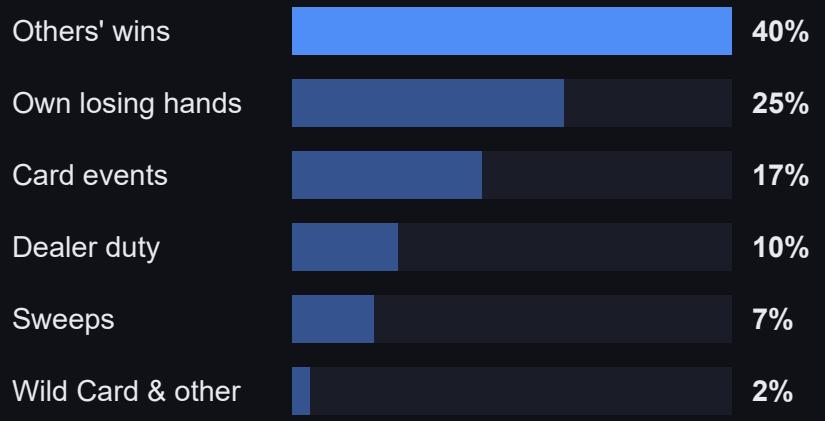

Black(Out)Jack

Balanced over 100,000 simulated rounds per table size: more players, more sips each, but never a race to the floor

SIMULATOR, PER TABLE SIZE

TABLE	SIPS / SEAT / ROUND	SIPS / HAND	DEALER BUSTS	BLACKJACKS	HANDS WON
2 players · 1 deck	3.3	1.6	28%	6.1%	42%
3 players · 1 deck	4.4	2.2	28%	6.0%	42%
3 players · 2 decks	4.4	2.2	28%	5.9%	42%
4 players · 2 decks	5.6	2.8	28%	6.0%	42%
4 players · 3 decks	5.6	2.8	28%	6.0%	42%

WHERE THE SIPS COME FROM (3 players, 1 deck)

SO WHAT

Every table size is checked over 100,000 simulated rounds, and the simulator matches real tables: 4.4 sips per seat per round for 3 players, against 4.9 in the logged 3-player rounds. Other players' wins, not your own losses, drive most of the drinking.

Every night ends with a recap deck: who won, why, and who should never split again

WHAT THE RECAP COVERS

Executive summary	the night's six takeaways
The race	every lead change, round by round
League table and sip bridge	who drank what, and what credits saved
Drivers and tempo	which rules drove the bill, and when it peaked
Decision quality and the house	who played by the book, who dealt the toughest
Player pages and awards	a page for every player, with their awards
Table setup	house rules and Drink Rate, for the record

SO WHAT

One tap on “Download Recap (PDF)” in the session summary, and the group chat has something to argue about until the next game.

About 15 pages plus one per player, in the same look as the app.

PLAY RESPONSIBLY

Built for good nights, not regrets

01

18+ only

An age gate on every device, and a link to the Terms & Disclaimer.

02

Drink less, still play

Drink Rate discounts and Easy Mode cut the sips without leaving the game.

03

Or don't drink at all

Normal mode plays the same blackjack with chips instead of sips.

04

Know your limits

Water counts. Taxis count. Never drink and drive.

SO WHAT

The game is about the cards and the company; the sips are just how you keep score.
